UNION RAILWAY CLERKS WILL MEET HERE SUNDAY

Brotherhood of Railway Clerks of C. & O. Railway Holds Meeting Here Sunday—Over 100 Men and Women Are Coming.

Maysville will be in the hands of the members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks all day Sunday for members of Lodge No. 287 which comprises all of the C. & O. railway clerks in the Cincinnati division reaching from Cincinnati to Ashland, will meet here for their summer get-together meeting on Sunday.

The meeting will be held in the Farm Bureau building and will begin promptly at 10 o'clock in the morning and close at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Some 100 or 150 clerks from all of the C. & O. stations in this district will be present and the local L. & N. clerks have been extended an invitation to attend. While the membership of this union is comprised mostly of men, there are several women clerks, who will attend and take part in the meeting.

The chief addresses will be made by H. J. Osborne, of Richmond, Va., General Chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks on the C. & O. and C. M. Owens, Grand Secretary and Treasurer of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks of the United States. It is quite an honor to have these two very important union officials present at a district meeting and this fact is expected to bring out an unusually large crowd to the Maysville meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is simply that the clerks might get together and know each other better and that they might talk over their work and get ideas from one another. No wage scale or labor question is to come before the meeting.

Lodge No. 287's headquarters is in Covington but this meeting is being held in Maysville that a good representation of the clerks might be had as this city is nearer the center of the division.

GOV. FRANK O. LOWDEN, WHOM THE KENTUCKY DELEGATION WILL SUPPORT

NOMINATION MAY BE MADE LATE THIS AFTERNOON

Governor Lowden Is Favorite In Field Many Speeches Made In Presenting Candidates.

Chicago, June 11. — The Republican National convention has taken up its real business today—the nomination of a national ticket. While no one could with any degree of certainty say "This is the winner" all were confident that in the end he would be selected with the same unanimity that marked the acceptance of the platform. Never was there a situation so fraught with danger to a party and never was the danger so completely averted.

Before the delegates reach the balloting they must cross a veritable sea of oratory. There are more than a score of nominating and seconding speeches to be heard. One speech, seconding the nomination of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, will be made by a woman, Helen Varick Boswell a veteran in the ranks of Republicanism.

If the vote turns into deadlock, after balloting begins, the convention may adjourn until tomorrow. In any event it is expected that there will be a session tomorrow, when the sole business will be the naming of a candidate for Vice President. As matters stand now, Lowden seems to be the favorite, with Wood next, Johnson seems to be irretrievably beaten, although he will make a good showing on the first two or three ballots.

Nominating speeches are supposed to be limited to ten minutes, but not all of them will be that brief. The first two seconding speeches will be limited to five minutes, and this rule will be enforced, as well as the one limiting additional seconding speeches to two minutes.

WILL BUILD THREE NEW COTTAGES.

Contractor J. H. Kirkland and a force of ten men began work yesterday at excavating and getting ready to build three pretty new cottages in West Third street for the Maysville Cotton Mills. These cottages will be completely equipped and will be rented by the mill owners to employees. It is understood that the company contemplates in time to build some ten or twelve such cottages in West Third street.

CHILDREN PRACTICE.

Arrangements were completed today for the Mason County Poultry Association to manage the poultry show this year at the Germantown Fair.

TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER AGAINST STRIKERS

Judge Cochran Will Hear Injunction Case Against Covington Strikers At Lexington Next Thursday.

Thursday afternoon Judge Cochran heard arguments at his office here for an injunction against certain striking employees of the Stewart Iron Works of Covington and granted a temporary restraining order against the strikers. He will go farther into the case and decide upon the injunction case on next Thursday at Lexington, where he goes to open the first session of Federal court there next week.

Because of certain labor troubles, the Stewart Iron works feared violence on the part of certain strikers at their plant and they are asking the Federal Court to enjoin the strikers from using violence at the company's plant.

This case is quite an interesting one and will attract much attention among the people of Northeastern Kentucky. The Stewart Iron Works is one of the largest plants in this section of Kentucky and employs a large number of men.

"I wish I were a girl" will be the wish of many boys when they see how cheaply a girl can dress on Saturday at Merz Bros.

TAX LEVY WILL BE FOUGHT OUT AT MEET OF COUNCIL TONIGHT

Ways and Means Committee will Likely Recommend Tax Levy of $1.60 for Next Year—Fight Expected.

An interesting session of City Council is promised for tonight when Council will receive the recommendation of the Ways and Means Committee on the budget and tax levy for the fiscal year. It is understood that the Finance committee will likely recommend a levy of $1.60 per $100, and that a fight on the floor of Council may follow as some members have expressed themselves as being opposed to increasing the levy of this year.

Figures on what it cost to operate the city government and city schools for last year and what will be necessary for the coming year will be offered and the councilmen will endeavor to reach some definite conclusion. Some councilmen favor increasing salaries of city officials for next year while others favor cutting down expenses to keep the levy at $1.50.

Although considerable argument is expected, it is felt certain an agreement will be reached tonight.

FORMER STUDENTS BRING CLIMAX TO SCHOOL WEEK

Commencement Week Functions Close This Evening When Alumni Association Welcomes Graduates.

A week filled with overflowing with school functions of various kinds will be brought to a grand climax this evening when the former graduates of M. H. S. have their say in matters.

The evening will start at 8 o'clock with a grand banquet at the High School building given by the Alumni Association at which the graduates of this year's class will be the honored guests. The forty-two men and women who last night received their diplomas of graduation will be extended a hearty welcome into the Association of M. H. S. Graduates and over the banquet board a jolly good time will be had.

The grand annual Alumni ball will mark the close of the class of '20's school days and a grand ball it will be from all reports of the extensive arrangements which have been made by the special committee into whose hands this important function has been entrusted. The best music obtainable has been procured and a very delightful climax to Commencement week is assured.

At Less Than HALF PRICE

This is without doubt the greatest dress event ever held in Maysville. We print below a copy of a letter received from our Mr. Millard Merz.

Misses' and Women's Dresses, sizes 16 to 46, Taffetas, Beaded Georgettes, Tricollettes, Printed Voiles and Gingham.

All go on sale at one time. None reserved. If you miss this sale, you miss one big opportunity of cutting down the high price of living.

Millard Merz says "He could not withstand the temptation to buy such remarkable values." CAN YOU?

In the lot are about 50 WHITE CRISPLY COOL and stylish TUB SKIRTS bought in June at August prices.

This is going to be a REAL DRESS PARTY. You are all invited. The Dresses are here. The time is set. We have done our part. Now it's up to you. NONE CHARGED—EXCHANGED OR SENT ON APPROVAL. A charge will be made for all alterations. OFFICE OF MILLARDS, 1337 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., June 4, 1920.

MERZ BROS., Maysville, Ky.,

Dear Boys:—Our New York Office put over one of the largest deals ever consummated in New York on dresses and skirts. I was in New York personally and saw the merchandise. Out of this lot, I selected about 300 dresses, all of which will be shipped you this week. They were brand new goods, in fact, some of them were not finished yet. At the price we bought them you ought to have just a sale of dresses for one entire week, provided they last that long. I will give you an idea of the values.

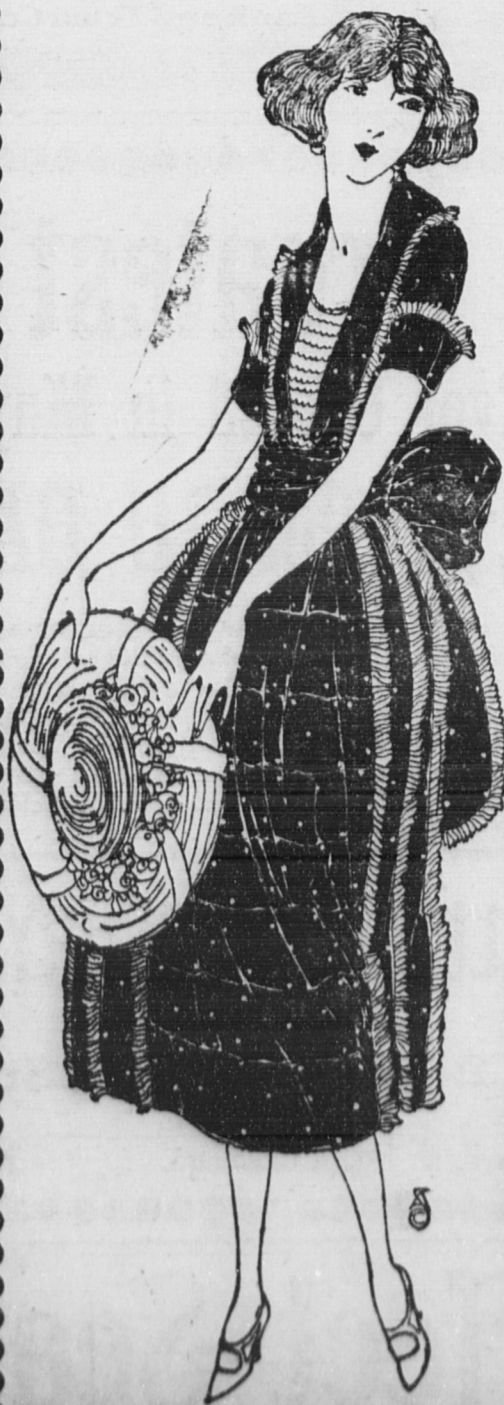

There is one lot of beaded georgette, retail value is from $35.00 to $55.00, you can sell them for $25.00. One lot of printed georgettes worth $35.00, you can sell for $19.75. One lot of taffetas worth $35.00 to $40.00, you can sell for $22.50. A few crepe de chine worth $45.00, you can sell for $24.75. One lot of fine tissue voiles worth $18.00, you can sell for $10.95.

About 100 dresses of beautifully patterned flowered voiles worth from $7.50 to $18.00, you can sell for from $4.98 to $10.75. 50 dresses of checked gingham and plaid gingham worth from $7.50 to $10.00, you can sell from $4.98 to $6.75.

These prices are absolutely lower than they were in 1914 and if the women in Mason county appreciate this opportunity, these dresses ought to go in a day. I hope I did not buy too many dresses, but the bargain was so wonderful I could not withstand the temptation.

I hope you will think the same as I do when you see them. Your affectionate brother, MILLARD MERZ.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

RURAL FIRE FIGHTING.

The chances for fires in rural communities are multiplying all the time and attention is now being given in scattered localities to the problem of scientific and efficient fire-fighting methods.

In spite of the utmost carefulness on the part of the individual there is still the possibility that a fire may occur and that it will not be discovered in time to be extinguishable by the individual with his own limited apparatus. For such occasions there should be available to the farmer, as well as to the town dweller, prompt assistance from organized fire fighters with necessary equipment at their command.

Such rural fire-fighting organizations have been developed in hundreds of communities in California during the last three years. In a number of counties the local organizations have been consolidated for purposes of general cooperation and efficiency under an official known as county fire warden. The primary purpose of these organizations in California has been to fight grain or range fires. Naturally, however, they also serve to check any fires which may occur in the buildings or on the farmstead. Two-wheeled trailers which can be attached to any automobile are used to carry the fire-fighting equipment.

A few rural communities in the middle west also have organized for fire protection. The best equipped rural fire organizations are provided with auto trucks especially constructed to carry the fire-fighting apparatus, as well as several members of the force. The equipment provided where the primary purpose is to fight field fires naturally differs somewhat from that intended primarily to fight fires in buildings. In both cases, however, reliance is placed to a large extent upon chemical extinguishers.

MOTOR TRUCK LINE EXPERIMENT.

There are 600 motor truck lines between the country and the city in the United States today, carrying mostly food products one way and bringing back necessities from the town, village and farm.

The motor truck line appears to be the only relief from railroad congestion, anyway the best relief for perishable goods from the farm to the city markets.

Not long since the U. S. Government made a most interesting test. Two identical consignments were made the same hour, one by truck from Lancaster, Pa., to a consignee in New York city and the other by railroad from Lancaster to the same consignee. Each consignment consisted of 1,000 dozens of eggs and 5,000 baby chicks.

The motor truck load arrived at the consignee's door in 12 hours. Upon examination, eight broken eggs were found and four of the chicks were dead.

The railroad consignment arrived in Jersey City, across the river from New York in four days. The consignee was notified and he had to send his own truck across the river to Jersey City to unload and load up again his consignment. Upon arrival at his store door in New York it was found that hundreds of eggs were broken and half the chicks were dead.

We understand that the truck freight bill was the larger but no doubt it was much smaller when the broken eggs and dead chicks were counted.

We hope the railroads will come out of their slough of despondency, but in the meantime here's hoping those 600 motor truck lines will increase to 6,000, and more.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Maysville Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical.

Maysville residents should be convinced. The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

Mrs. John Burns, W. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since."

NO TROUBLE SINCE
Nearly thirteen years later, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever. I haven't needed a kidney medicine since I took them."
Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burns had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WOMAN HAD LIQUOR.

Mrs. Elizabeth Berlin, 1914 Madison avenue, Covington, was charged in Covington Federal Court with having liquor in violation of the prohibition law. In a raid by federal agents on her home late Wednesday, $3,000 worth of whisky, wine and gin was confiscated, agents say. She conducts a soft drink stand at 1916 Madison avenue.

American Beauty, Member Chicago Grand Opera Company, Sings Program at Chautauqua This Year

JESSIE ISABEL CHRISTIAN

Jessie Isabel Christian, soprano, formerly with the Chicago Opera Co., and known to American opera lovers as a singer whose name is linked with those of Melba and Galli-Curci, is appearing this summer in concert work on the Chautauqua program.

Miss Christian, who is recognized as a coming star, made her first real debuted in America when in 1917 she was called upon to take Galli-Curci's part in "The Huguenots." Her success immediately made her fame secure.

Miss Christian, although a native of Iowa, has received her musical education in France. She has sung in the Paris Opera, Opera Comique, and other European houses.

"IN THE DAY'S NEWS."

John W. Davis, one of the latest to be suggested for the Democratic presidential nomination, is the present United States Ambassador to Great Britain. Mr. Davis is a West Virginian and belongs to a family that has long been prominent in public affairs in that state. Educated at Washington and Lee University, he began the practice of law in Clarksburg, his native place, and in 1899 made his first essay into public life as a member of the State Legislature. In 1910 he was elected to Congress, where he served two terms and established his reputation as one of the ablest lawyers in the House. In 1913 he resigned from Congress to accept appointment from President Wilson as Solicitor-General of the United States, which position he continued to fill until selected for the important diplomatic post he now holds. Mr. Davis is a man of scholarly attainments, and while he is not what one might call an orator he is a public speaker of the type that commands the rapt attention of any class of audience.

GREAT LAKES TO THE OCEAN WATERWAY

Is the Only High Cost of Living Solution—Crops Tied Up By the Railroad Car Shortage.

Minneapolis, Miss., June 7. — Poor railroad service is a prime cause of decreased agricultural production in the middle west, a score of farm experts have told the international joint commission at hearings held in Omaha, Des Moines and Sioux Falls, representing three great states of the corn belt. The high commission is investigating the St. Lawrence deep water way and power project, which the middle west farmers almost as a unit favor as an outlet to Europe for their surplus products, an outlet which is independent of the congested eastern railways.

The commission passed through Minneapolis on its way to Duluth, where it will begin a series of hearings at the five lake ports. The lake ports are expected to give the commission evidence that they can accommodate ocean vessels if the commission recommends an improvement of the St. Lawrence, which will permit such vessels to enter the great lakes.

In Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota the commission heard this argument:

"The railroads cannot move farm crops and stock when farmers want them moved to market.

"Farmers with stocks of last year's grains on hand are having trouble to finance their spring planting, and consequently are not planting as large an acreage as if they had ready cash from last year's crop.

"A dollar a hundredweight is knocked off the farm price of hogs simply because of the uncertainty of getting cars to get hogs to market. Hogs on the farm bring an amount lower than the packing center price by the freight plus $1 a hundredweight risk or even more.

"In a similar manner, grain guaranteed in a ship for export brings ten cents more a bushel than grain simply consigned to the seaboard with freight paid.

"Grain and stock deteriorate by delays in shipments.

"The farmers' profits are curtailed by the exact amount represented in the various transportation risks between the farm and the consumer, except possibly in the case of corn, where car shortage this year has boosted the price of that portion of the crop which could have been marketed, in the opinion of some farmers.

"Uncertainty of being able to market farm products is taking away from the farmers the incentive to produce their possible maximum.

"An open channel for ocean ships to enter the great lakes would make possible the moving of all export grain before December, thus relieving those farmers who depend on selling their grain direct from the harvest fields."

Charles Eyer, secretary of the Farmers' Elevators association of South Dakota, said thirty to thirty-five per cent. of the 1919 grain crop is still in the farmers' hands, with little prospect of getting it forwarded before the 1920 harvest begins.

Statistics from Nebraska elevators, introduced at Omaha, showed that at least thirty per cent. of the Nebraska grain is still on hand, Iowa fared somewhat better.

H. G. Taylor, chairman of the Nebraska state railway commission, said scores of elevators in Nebraska are blocked and unable to take grain because of the car shortage.

"The open way to the sea from Chicago will shorten the turn-around of the box car and double or treble its efficiency as a mover of grain," Mr. Taylor said. "The western grain cars will stay on western lines and make several trips on the country elevators to the boats at Chicago in the same time that it would make a single trip to New York."

ESCAPED MAN SECURES A JOB, BUT IS TAKEN.

Kansas City, Mo. — W. A. Sorsby, who escaped from the Mississippi penitentiary last fall while serving a life sentence for the murder of a post office inspector at Clinton, must finish his term.

Under the name of W. E. Vermillion, Sorsby sought to start life anew in the Kansas oil fields, where he became a station agent for the Santa Fe railway. "Vermillion's" arrest came when a prisoner in the Ellsworth county jail told Sheriff D. A. Thomas of Ellsworth county that a description of Sorsby carried in police bulletins fitted the station agent at Vanora.

Sorsby, now here in charge of post-office authorities, will be taken back to Clinton. He was identified by a scar on his left leg. He denies being the man wanted.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Covington, Kentucky, May 10th, 1920. For some time past it has been known to many of my Republican friends throughout the state that I would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

I now desire to make public announcement of that fact.

I keenly appreciate the responsibility and importance of this high position, and, in the event of my election, I will give to the duties of this office the best there is in me and will represent the people of Kentucky and of the United States to the best of my ability.

I desire, also, to take advantage of this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the many Republicans throughout the state who have, without solicitation on my part, so kindly and generously offered me their support.

BANKERS WILL HOLD NEXT YEAR'S MEETING IN MAYSVILLE

Maysville Bankers Are Elected Officers and Local Bankers Will Plan To Give Visitors Grand Time Here.

At the joint meeting of Group Six and Group Nine Kentucky Bankers' Association held at Ft. Mitchell, Covington, yesterday it was decided that the next annual meeting of Group Nine in which Maysville banks are located, will be held in this city and an invitation was extended Group Six to meet with them here. This invitation was accepted by Group Six and they will both gather here in 1921.

Maysville was very much honored by having two of its bankers elected officers of the group for the next year and plans for the royal entertainment of the visiting bankers next summer will be started by the local bankers at once.

The officers elected at yesterday's meeting were:

President—L. N. Davis, Second National Bank, Ashland.

Vice President—H. C. Sharp, State National Bank, Maysville.

Secretary—E. L. Willett, Farmers & Traders Bank, Maysville.

Executive Committee—Mrs. Sallie Kinman, Russell; C. B. Patterson, Mt. Sterling, and H. L. Corliss, Brooksville.

The date of the 1921 meeting will be fixed by the Executive committee at its first meeting which will not likely be for several weeks but this will be announced in time.

The last meeting of the bankers in Maysville was made the occasion of a great time for all. It will be remembered that there was a great outing at Beechwood park during the day and a boat ride on the Ohio at night. Something similar in the way of entertainment will be considered by the local entertainment committee.

If you read Merz Bros. ad in today's paper and not attend their dress sale, then you are not a woman.

GRADUATION IS BUT THE COMMENCEMENT OF OUR LIVES

Large Crowd Attends Commencement Exercises Held on Thursday When Forty-two Receive High School Diplomas.

There was a very large audience at the High School Thursday evening when the class of 1920 Maysville High School appeared for the last time as High School students and received from the hands of the President of the Board of Education their diplomas.

The program was a splendid one and the six members of the graduation class who were chosen to make the addresses, did it well and presented some fine thoughts worth the attention of the audience in attendance.

Dr. J. H. Samuel, President of the City Board of Education, in presenting the diplomas to the graduates said:

While sitting here observing this class and listening to the girls and boys, I have been pleased to detect the contagion of the occasion flashing from the eyes of proud relatives and friends. Your facial expression clearly demonstrates your acceptance of their youthful aspiration; the buoyancy of the ambitions. I also read in your faces that mystic sign of hope and faith in their triumphal victory over life's vexations and difficulties, and these observations so fill me with kindred emotions that it seems the very air of this auditorium is charged with the inspiration of the hour.

My friends, you have reason to be proud of the members of this class and further reasons for pride in our schools. Think of the potentiality that is pouring out into the world of practical affairs from the various high schools of the land during this month of June. How well they are going to fill their niche and accomplish the many and varied tasks that confront, depends upon their industry, their ideals and the training the homes and schools have given. The present demands, as never before, a citizenship thoroughly acquainted with the fundamental principles that have made this nation great; it demands persons filled with the spirit of service—those who know how to perform some useful, definite function and knowing, have the initiative and industry to see it to a successful conclusion, and above all, it demands that its youth be steeped in the spirit of true Americanism. What is our school doing to meet these demands for it is a true saying that "Whatever we would have in the nation in the next generation we should put into the schools of this generation."

To begin: through the courses in history, economics, civics and literature our high school supplies that knowledge of the formation, organization and fundamental principles of our government, so necessary to the formation of correct judgments and proper ideals.

In the classes in current history and literature our school takes leading rank. I was surprised to know that 96 copies of the Literary Digest are studied each week both in history and English classes. I have authority for stating that Maysville High School was the first in the State to offer definite, daily teaching in current history, government and literature. Five years ago the Literary Digest was adopted for that purpose, pictures were made of the "Digest Classes" which were later circulated over the country in a pamphlet issued from New York. In fact, all of our courses are designed to teach the dignity of service and the necessity for productive labor whether it be in the history recitation, the English class, the domestic science department, the typewriting room, or the wood shop. An intense instance of the correlation and completeness of the work given, the history and general science give the origin and characteristics of various foods; the English department writes essays, descriptions and memorize appropriate selections; the domestic science department gives instructions in its preparation and service, and last but not least, the manual training department makes the sideboard for its display and dining chairs and tables for its comfortable consumption.

And now, members of the class of 1920, comes the hour for which you have been laboring these four years. You are now to be presented with the city's stamp of approval certifying that you have completed your first great undertaking. You have achieved the crown of all honors, a triumph the greatest generals may envy; for, it is a nobler thing to remove the barriers of the intellectual life than to extend the boundaries of an empire. I see from my program that there are 25 girls and 17 boys. Young ladies as horizons lift and new destinies confront us, woman is going to perform an ever increasing public service to society. Since the foundation of the world, man has had nearly all the forces on his side, working with him and for him; his interest has been stimulated while that of women has been abated; he has had the run of the world and all quickening and brightening things while she has sat in the cinders and, until lately, been illumined only by his reflected light. Thanks to an enlightened electorate the women of our nation will soon come into their very own. But young ladies you are coming on the stage, as principal actors, and as the economic and moral questions confront, may you be prepared, as a result of your training, to meet them four-square. As Carlyle says: "Our grand business is, not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what clearly lies at hand."

And now young ladies and young gentlemen by the authority vested in me as President of the Board of Education, it will be my pleasure to present you with your deservedly won diploma. You are now experiencing the thrill of the birth of the morning when with her purple quiver and burnished bow she stood tiptoe on the horizon, and shot sunbeams at the vanishing darkness of night, then reach up and gather the stars and hide them in her bosom, and then bend down and tickle the slumbering world with straws of light till it woke with laughter and song. But my young friends it will not always be morning, as life's mid-day sun with its sweltering and oft-times oppressive heat will come only too quickly. You will then be called upon to bear your portion of the world's burdens in the heat of the day. As you approach the sunset of life you will have walked with life and love with the halo of parting day upon their brows and the starlight tangled in their hair, journeying arm-in-arm among the gathering shadows and weaving all the sweet memories of the morning into their happy evening that it might last forever.

But the evening will hang her silver crescent on the sky and rival the splendor of the dawn with the glory of the twilight. She will wrap the shadows around her, and with a lullaby on her lips, rock the weary world to rest. Thus, life steals up from the dust, we wake to think and sleep to dream; we love and laugh and weep and sing until death steals us back to dust again.

My parting thought is that you may realize that this is just your commencement day. Study to improve yourself as the years pass by, and may you so act and live that you will bring nothing but honor and distinction to your Alma Mater and to the city that is now sending you forth with its richest blessings, and may the great Eternal Force to whom all things seem as they are, be your future guide and protector.

I thank you.
